

In 1938, despite Mission era wood consumption and decades of CBTS development, Monterey pine density remained high in Carmel Woods and throughout much of the area north of Santa Lucia and east of Camino Real. The density of Monterey cypress planted along San Antonio and Scenic was high.

Carmel By The Sea, 1938

Mr. Pat Hathaway, California View Historical Plate Collection